

Feedback for RRMP Literature Review [Formative]

Tutor completing formative feedback: Karen Outram	Student number: Bahra Yatman
Details of any extensions etc:	Submission Attempt: Formative

Thank you for submitting your formative.

Looking at Point 2, of your Literature Review intentions as follows, [excerpt from your formative]

Exploring of main applications; Enhancing Decision-Making: LLMs streamline operations, automate routine tasks, and reduce human error in financial decision making processes (Goldberg, 2024).

Role of Chatbots in Customer Support: LLM-driven chatbots offer customer service support by assisting with account-related queries and delivering personalised investment advice (Ali et al., 2023; Udeh et al., 2024).

Broader applications such as LLMs are increasingly applied in portfolio management, risk assessment, regulatory compliance, and operational streamlining, enhancing overall business efficiency.

Each of the above three points could be a Literature Review separately in themselves. Remember you need deep research on a focused topic to achieve critical depth in your content. Look at this list above and decide which of these would be the focus in the Literature Review reflective of the title you have picked and deep research that particular point.

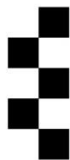

You can bring in additional discussion to support your main topic, but there needs to be a very focused topic to ensure that you have a subject that can focus on deep research of main points.

Your points in section 3 reflect financial challenges and so reflect upon your 3 points above and see which one of those particularly aligns with your focus on finance, from section 2 and narrow down your topic to allow focused research to occur.

Good to see citation and long list research references – reflect on all the above feedback and focus the core of your Literature Review down.

*The below general information is circulated to all students from formative, looking forward to summative:

For the actual summative, ensure that citation is occurring all the way through your content. In-text citation then needs to be reflected in a list of references at the end of the assignment. That list of references needs to be in alphabetical order at the end of the assignment.

For summative ensure that your writing style is wholly formal and academic. Also remember to apply page numbers to your summative document. Ensure that your summative has a critical 'pros and cons' view of discussion, looking at both the positives and negatives of the research that you choose to engage with. It is really important not to just look at one side of research. The content of summative needs to examine different publications and look at different perspectives.

As discussed in live seminars and in student support on the online hub, research for this module is just from secondary research, [and so research that is already in the public domain]. No primary research, [interaction with actual people] is to take place in this module.

Wishing you the best of luck now for your actual summative,

With best wishes

Karen
